

Pre Application Advice Charging Scheme and Post Application Service

The Development Control Service is responsible for providing planning advice, processing planning applications and appeals in relation to the use and development of land and buildings. The service has historically dealt with around 1300 applications each year and some 700 pre application enquiries which are a growing part of the work of the service.

From the 1st April 2019 the Council will no longer deal with pre-application enquiries for householder developments on a bespoke basis. Please see the section below on householder developments.

Why make a pre application enquiry?

We want to promote the use of early discussions with agents and developers as part of the development management approach to facilitating acceptable development. Open and constructive discussions about schemes before they are formally submitted as a planning application can help steer proposals into a form that are more likely to be acceptable to the Local Planning Authority whilst leading to the reworking or dropping of proposals that appear to be fundamentally unacceptable. Entering into pre application discussions will help save time, avoid wasted expense and avoid frustration. More complex proposals or those requiring a site visit may take longer to assess. If we cannot respond within 10 working days we will write to you and let you know when you can expect to receive a full reply.

Further benefits include:

- Avoiding incomplete applications that cannot be registered
- Reducing the number of unsuccessful applications
- Raising the quality of development
- Securing satisfaction with the process
- Reducing confrontation in the planning process
- Gaining community acceptance

We will expect that guidance given by the Council's officers is taken into account in the preparation and working up of your proposals. Where it is evident that pre application advice has not been sought or taken into account in a subsequent planning application, the Council may not be able to negotiate on a scheme and applications are likely to be determined as submitted.

I'm only looking for very general advice. Do I need to go through this process and pay a fee?

Anyone considering developing or building in Chorley should look at the Council's web-site before beginning the design or application process. The web-site is very useful in respect of FAQs such as 'do I need planning permission?' and provides information on up to date planning policies and the status of Council documents/ policies. The website will direct you to the Planning Portal where you can identify whether you need planning permission.

The Council will continue to provide a general level of advice to members of the public about the planning process without the need to pay a fee. For example, to explain what planning policies would apply to an area / proposal, how to submit a planning application, how the planning process works, and what issues would normally be taken into account when a planning application is decided.

This advice will be given by the Council's duty planning officer (Monday - Friday 09.30 to 13.15 hours) at the Council's Union Street office or by telephone to answer general enquires (contact details are set out below). In addition there are exemptions from the charging for pre-application advice in the paragraph below.

The Planning Portal website has useful tools including an interactive house which allows you to identify whether planning permission is required or not for house extensions.

How does the process work?

To give you greater certainty of outcome from the pre-application process and ensure constructive advice we need you to provide a minimum level of information that will help us with your proposal. This protocol sets out how we will deal with your enquiry and gives a checklist of the information that you should provide. The more information you provide the more comprehensive our reply will be.

The advice that we give at the pre-application stage is given in good faith but it is not the binding on the Council. This is because there may be new information that comes to light during the consideration of a subsequent planning application where we have a duty to consult third parties.

Also, some planning applications are decided by the Development Control Committee rather than by Council officers under delegated powers. Pre-application advice may also become less relevant over time as planning policies change or having regard to an interpretation of the weight that can be attached to various material considerations.

Pre-application discussions are always confidential unless you request that we seek the views of third parties. Although the Council does not automatically publicise the details of pre-application discussions, under the Freedom of Information Act we may from time to time receive requests to provide information regarding enquiries for pre-application advice and of any advice given. Subject to certain exemptions, we are obliged to provide this information, although personal details are protected under the Data Protection Act and will be redacted before disclosure.

The exemptions relate to commercially sensitive and confidential information. It is therefore important that you bring to the Council's attention at the outset in writing any information which you consider may, if disclosed, prejudice your commercial interests or which you consider would breach confidentiality. You should also set out the reasons why and for what period you consider the information falls into these categories. It is then for the Council to decide whether it believes the information falls into these exempt categories, if a Freedom of Information request is subsequently received.

We may also treat as exempt from disclosure information which, if disclosed, may prejudice the effective conduct of public affairs. This can be particularly relevant at the outset of major applications where a degree of exploratory discussion takes place. If the disclosure of this exploratory information was likely to prejudice the process of determination of the subsequent planning application, then it may not be disclosable.

Apart from these exemptions any other recorded information resulting from these pre-application discussions is very likely to be disclosable.

Householder developments

From the 1st April 2019 the Council will no longer deal with pre-application enquiries for householder developments on a bespoke basis.

This is because the Council has adopted a Householder Design Guidance Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) that sets out the design principles for a comprehensive range of householder developments. The Householder Design Guidance SPD seeks to ensure that property extensions have a satisfactory relationship with existing neighbouring buildings, do not have overbearing impacts on adjacent properties and amenity areas and do not lead to the excessive loss of daylight or overshadowing of habitable rooms and amenity spaces of adjacent properties. Furthermore, it asserts that extensions should be located, and windows orientated, to prevent direct overlooking of habitable rooms or private amenity space that belongs to nearby properties. View the Householder Design Guidance Supplementary Planning Document-SPD

The Planning Portal (www.planningportal.co.uk) also contains advice for homeowners on the types of development that can be carried out without the need to apply for planning permission.

PLEASE NOTE: The Council are unable to confirm in writing whether a development does not require planning permission because it falls to be considered 'permitted development'. If you require confirmation that your development does not require planning permission because you consider that it falls within the parameters of 'permitted development', you will need to submit an application for a 'Lawful Development Certificate for a Proposed use or development'. A fee is required for such an application, and the fee is set by the Government, rather than Chorley Council.

Where planning permission is required then you will need to submit a planning application. The Council has an adopted Validation Checklist which sets out the requirements for documents to be submitted with planning applications. This document can be found at <http://chorley.gov.uk/Pages/AtoZ/Planning-application-validation-checklist-and-forms.aspx> (right hand side of screen, section called Download it)

Please note that all drawings that are submitted will need to be to a recognized scale.

Planning History Search

A charge of £72 (plus VAT = £86.40) will be applied to each property planning history search.

What is covered by the charging Scheme?

The charging scheme covers all requests for pre application advice regardless of whether a meeting or written response is requested. The charging scheme includes the cost of providing specialist design and historic buildings advice where necessary. The scheme also includes advice and consultation with the Strategic Housing team within Chorley.

The following exemptions apply to the charging scheme:

- General planning advice on minor proposals given verbally by the duty officer or at the Customer Service Centre
- Incidental advice or information given by telephone
- Where the works are required to meet the needs of a person's registered disability
- Discussions in relation to enforcement matters
- Informal enquiries relating to listed building dealt with by the Conservation Officer
- Design advice and guidance on extensions to dwelling houses which require planning permission.

In addition, the charging scheme will not apply to advice given to the following organisations:

- Parish and Town Councils
- Lancashire County Council
- Housing Associations (unless a mixed market/ affordable scheme is proposed)

You should also be aware that advice in relation to:

- Highways
- Archaeology
- Agricultural Considerations (subject to a separate fee of £400)

Is available from Lancashire County Council but the request should be sent to Chorley so that co-ordination of the issues and constraints of the site can be managed.

Advice in relation to flood risk is available from the Environmental Agency. However please note that the Environment Agency charge for advice and as such detailed advice may incur a separate fee.

PLEASE NOTE: Lancashire County Council are the Lead Local Flood Authority for the area.

The Environment Agency will no longer be consulted on surface water drainage issues for new developments (unless they are in designated Critical Drainage Areas and greater than 1 ha).

All major planning applications (10+ dwellings or greater than 0.5ha) will require separate SUDs approval from LCC following the implementation date. For such schemes Chorley will co-ordinate with LCC to provide the appropriate advice at pre-application stage.

A written reply setting out the Council's pre application advice will be provided in every case.

One meeting with a planning officer will be arranged if it is necessary by the planning officer, although for 'small' and 'minor' development not all enquiries will require a meeting. Subsequent meetings for 'major'/'large' major schemes will be arranged as we deem necessary and be subject to an additional fee.

The charging scheme includes the cost of specialist advice on design, historic buildings and trees where it is required.

For the most significant schemes or proposals of a strategic scale, the Council will determine the appropriate charge on a case by case basis and will seek to negotiate a Planning Performance Agreement (PPA) for suitable schemes. PPA's will be considered and negotiated on an individual basis in terms of the charging scheme.

How do I obtain pre application advice?

Requests for pre application advice should be made by email to 'dcon@chorley.gov.uk' or in writing to the Head of Planning with a subject heading of Pre Application Advice. Alternatively, you may wish to complete and send to us the Pre Application Advice form which is available on our website and attached to the back of this guidance document. This form sets out the information required for a request to be accepted.

Upon receipt of your request for pre application advice, we will aim to contact you within 5 working days either to request details or to confirm that your request is complete and has been allocated to a Case Officer for action.

What do I need to do before advice can be given by the Council?

If you are not the site owner you should visit the site and make a detailed analysis to establish site characteristics, constraints and opportunities and the surrounding context.

Plans and tree constraints surveys (where applicable) will be required if a planning application is submitted. Therefore, these survey plans are also likely to be useful in the process of designing a scheme.

You should prepare draft design principles for the site based on the findings of the site survey work.

It is a national planning requirement that applicants are able to demonstrate how they have taken account of the need for good design in their development proposals. This is established in Government's National Planning Policy Framework. We therefore ask you to explain your design approach as part of your draft development proposals.

Once you have undertaken the above assessment you should be in a much better position to begin designing your scheme. You may then wish to approach the Council to seek advice from a Planning Officer.

We will expect the following to be provided to enable your request to be actioned:

- Payment of relevant fee by debit card or cheque (cleared)
- Completed Pre Application Advice form
- Site Survey & Analysis
- Sketch or indicative plans of proposal

- Supporting studies/ information (for major schemes if you want specialist advice)
- Supporting statement

(see detailed comments regarding information requirements detailed below)

These details will be used to promote a design led approach to the scheme and will enable the Council to assess whether a development team including specialist officers should be brought together.

For the most significant schemes or strategic scale development, a Planning Performance Agreement may be appropriate in which the process of dealing with the proposal in accordance with a timetable, principles and procedures are agreed together. A Planning Performance Agreement would be drawn up at the pre application stage and would lead the process through the application stage.

What can I expect from the process?

Requests for advice will be allocated to case officers according to their complexity. Major schemes will normally be dealt with by a senior officer. To ensure that the process is as seamless as possible, the case officer will usually deal with any subsequent planning applications.

We will aim to arrange to provide a written reply or arrange a meeting within 20 working days from the date your request is accepted as complete. Where a meeting is held, a written summary of the main points will be set out within 10 working days of the meeting. Our preferred method of written communication is via e-mail and this will be used where possible.

In the case of major development proposals, it may be necessary to consult statutory consultees and other groups prior to providing advice. In such cases, the pre application process may take longer in order that we are in a position to provide a comprehensive response.

The case officer (and development team where applicable) will assess the submitted information and will aim to provide you constructive comments on the scheme in relation to the following so far as they are relevant:

- Relevant development plan policies and other Council strategies that may have a bearing on the proposal
- Site constraints, e.g. statutory designations such as conservation areas, AONB's, Tree Preservation Orders and other constraints including listed buildings, flood zones and right of way.
- Relevant planning history
- The details of the proposal, i.e. the acceptability of the land use, design and amenity considerations and highways and access issues where appropriate
- Infrastructure requirements, including the need for affordable housing, open space and contributions towards Council or County Council services
- S106 requirements and the Community Infrastructure Levy Liability. View more information on CIL charging schedule
- We will indicate the likely information requirements (plan and supporting details/studies) to assist with the validation of any subsequent planning application. We will also explain how the development management process operates, the consultation process, decision making arrangements including committee information and the likely timetable for assessment of a planning application.

What if a subsequent decision on an application does not follow the advice I was given?

Advice given will be based on the case officer's professional judgment and assessment of the information provided. Pre application advice whether favourable or not is given on a 'without prejudice' basis since the Council must on submission of an application go through the statutory procedures and formal consultation and assess the outcomes before a decision can be made. Whilst advice can be given in good faith, we cannot guarantee that a subsequent planning application will be successful. Additionally there may also be changes to planning policy that arise between advice being given and an application being submitted which may have implications on the proposals. We nevertheless believe that pre application advice is an extremely important part of the planning process. Fee for pre application advice will not be refunded and do not affect any statutory planning application fee subsequently required.

What if I disagree with the advice received?

We recognise that you may not like the advice you receive. In most cases, it is differences of opinion about the planning merits of the scheme rather than factual errors that give rise to disagreement. These can only be resolved by submitting an application and going through the formal planning process.

Site Survey and Analysis

In order to establish the material considerations in respect of the development and to provide a co-ordinated response it is advised that the following is undertaken and provided before detailed pre-application advice can be provided:

- I. A location plan identifying the site should be provided to a scale of 1:1250 or 1:2500. Photographs of the site are also helpful
- II. An accurate survey of the site including the buildings and features within and surrounding the site (for example trees on adjacent land but close to the site boundary) and an analysis of the constraints and opportunities of the site should always be undertaken. The analysis should also include:
 - a) identification of existing and proposed character areas including views into and out of the site;
 - b) accurate site levels;
 - c) an assessment of the impact of the proposed development on trees located within and adjacent to the site

Plans of the Proposed Development

Plans showing the layout of the proposed development at a scale of 1:200 or 1:500 for large schemes including an indication of the size and scale of development and how this will relate to any existing and retained features and site levels.

Supporting statement

Your proposal should be accompanied by a supporting statement to explain and justify the design approach chosen. The supporting statement should include an explanation of:

- i. How the proposal accords with planning policies.
- ii. How the scheme relates to and reinforces local distinctiveness.
- iii. How the proposal is appropriate for the site in terms of the amount of development proposed.

- iv. For residential schemes of fifteen (five in rural areas) or more houses (new build or conversion) it will be necessary to demonstrate how affordable housing will be provided.

If you are having difficulty providing the above information it may be possible for us to give you advice based on simple sketch drawings of your proposal. You should contact us to discuss whether or not this will be possible.

Pre-application Advice

This form should be used if you are seeking pre-application advice for all residential and commercial enquires.

Pre- application advice is a discretionary service offered by the Council. The fee is based on the type of development that is proposed.

We will aim to reply to your enquiry within 20 working days from the date your request is accepted as complete or 10 days from the date of a meeting. However more complex enquiries take longer than this. If we are going to take longer than 10 days we will let you know.

Monitoring of Legal Agreements

The principle of providing good quality consistent advice also applies to monitoring of legal agreements under section 106 of the Town and Country Planning Act, which take a significant amount of officer time. At present, this is ultimately a cost to the citizens of the area as no costs are recovered from applicants. Therefore charging allows for an improved and regulated advice system. The Planning Obligations Management Fee (for monitoring Obligations) is 2% of the value of the 106 agreement, or £500, whichever is the higher.
